

International Lectures and Presentations

(selection)

Professor Dr. habil. Joachim Broecher
University of Flensburg
Flensburg, Germany

Last update: July 23, 2017

1. Broecher, J. (2017). PBIS in Germany: Implementation and good practices. Research Seminar: Positive Behavior Support in International Perspective. Perspectives from the US, Germany, Finland, and the Netherlands. Organized by PBS Europe Network. VU University Amsterdam, June 12, 2017
2. Broecher, J. (2016). Teaching students with emotional and social needs through Experiential Education: Theoretical framework and practical applications. Poster presentation, International Conference of the Association for Experiential Education (AEE), Marriott City Center, Minneapolis, Minnesota, October 27-30, 2016
3. Broecher, J. (2014). 'Incident on a train': How storytelling in higher education can foster a critical discourse on the inclusive and exclusive forces of society. Lecture during the conjoint workshop with students and faculty of University College South Denmark and University of Flensburg, Oktober 29, 2014

4. Broecher, J. and Kluge, N. (2013). Guided journaling for teachers of students with challenging behavior. Poster presentation at the international conference of the Council for Children with Behavioral Disorders (CCBD): 'A brighter future: Prevention and intervention on behalf of students with challenging behaviors.' Marriott O'Hare, Chicago, Illinois, September 26-28, 2013
5. Broecher, J. (2010). Dealing with fear and pain through drawing. An investigation of animal depictions of a six years old boy before and after a surgical intervention. Wheelock College, Boston, MA, March 25, 2010
6. Broecher, J. (2009). How teachers are prepared in Germany. Lenoir-Rhyne University, Hickory, North Carolina, March 23, 2009
7. Broecher, J. (2009). Meeting children's individual needs in heterogeneous groups. Lecture at the international conference of the Association for Childhood Education International (ACEI): 'Children at the crossroads. Educating all to move forward.' The Westin, Chicago, Illinois, March 17-21, 2009
8. Broecher, J. (1988). Fostering creative intelligence in a university summer program. Presentation and discussion of research results from the German 'Creative Summer Camps' for gifted adolescents with particular intellectual, social and emotional needs, 'Confratute' (Gifted Education Conference). University of Connecticut, Storrs, Massachusetts, 18.-29. Juli 1988